Syracuse Squad of 31 Men Is Also in New York.

New York, Nov. 18.—Football squads of Dartmouth and Syracuse, which clash at the Polo grounds to-morrow, arrived here to-day and were sent through light drills.

Thirty-one men were in the Syracuse party. Anderson, it was announced by Coach Meehan, would be used at quarter in place of Herbert, who was injured in the Colgate game. Foster will replace Anderson at left half.

Burke and Moore accompanied the Dartmouth squad, but they probably will not be able to play. Watson probably will take Burke's place at left half and Murphy will play Moore's position at right guard.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage. Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. NEED LAW FOR HOME RELIEF

Is Opinion of State Charities and Probation Conference.

INDETERMINATE SENTENCE BEST

In Case of Conviction, the Conference Believes.

Over 80 state employees and others interested in charities work, including the entire board of charities and probation with the exception of Philip T. H. Pierson of Bennington, attended the session of the board's school of instruction in the Senate chamber at Montpelier yesterday afternoon. The session followed a tour of inspection of Kinestead, the new state shelter home above Seminary hill. Thomas Magner of Burlington, chairman of the board, arrived yesterday afternoon and presided at the evening session.

Miss Elizabeth F. Van Patten of Burlington was to have a paper yesterday afternoon on "School Nursing in Its Relation to Health and Welfare Work in Vermont." Because of Miss Van Patten's unavoidable absence her paper was given by Miss Katherine E. Spear of Montpelier. Miss Van Patten's address centered about the following four questions:

1.—How can school classes be freed of the menace of the subnormal, contaminating the normal children by their "uncleanliness of body and mind?" How can the incubus of the backward child be prevented from the retarding the whole educational scheme for the normal? Can these backward children ever be furnished the special teachers which they so greatly need?

2.—Can owners of rankly unsanitary dwellings, which never should be dwellings, be compelled to fit them for human habitation or to close them?

3.—Can indictment for neglect be brought against parents who refuse treatment that will restore some degree of efficiency to their crippled child?

4.—What can be done to get action in the case of a girl of 12 years, mentally deficient, who has already been the victim of one man, to help her and save other children from possible harm through her?

The consensus of opinion of the conference was that the indeterminate sentence should be used, also that there was a law for relieving cruelty to animals, but no law that would enable anyone to relieve home conditions such as those cited.

Harold W. Slocum, secretary of the Vermont Tuberculosis association, spoke on the association's work. Clinics are being held, he said, and the preventorium at Pittsford is receiving children who have been exposed to the disease and are likely to develop it.

At the evening session, Miss Lena C. Ross, superintendent of the state prison and house of correction for women at Rutland, spoke on the work of that institution.

MOST OF PROBATIONERS GIVE LITTLE TROUBLE

Declared Secretary Jeffrey of State Board of Charities and Probation.

Probation and parole are of tremendous importance to the state of Vermont, said Secretary Jeffrey of the state board of charities and probation at the conference of charity workers, state officials and others at Montpelier on Thursday. "It relieves the state of the care of a very large number at the prisons," he said. Secretary Jeffrey continued:

"It is necessary to maintain an organization for the reception, supervision and care of the 771 persons who have come in contact with our courts and criminal laws and then committed to our care. I bring this thought to you that you may have a keener realization that the board of charities and probation is not wholly a child care agency."

"The payment of aid to certain women under the mothers' aid or pension law is a department of our work that must be administered with painstaking care and constant watchfulness that the state shall not be imposed upon and that every dollar expended must not be only in a worthy cause but where there is a hope of producing a higher and better citizenship. The first aid or pension was granted in November, 1918."

"The law provides that we shall give medical and surgical treatment to defective children where parents are unable to give them aid and this item of expense for the past year amounted to a little more than $2,000."

"This brings us to child care and the investigation of complaints which come to the department and this item for July, August, September and October amounts to $7,073.13. The share of this receivable from the cities and towns amounts to only $1,038.82."

"Probation is intended for constructive work, for character building, for reformation and is intended to be used on first offenders, misdemeanants and those persons who have violated the law where there seems to be a reasonable and probable hope of benefit. To place on probation an habitual criminal or a mental defective can only serve to destroy the beneficial effect of the system and fail to afford society that degree of protection to which it is entitled."

"I appreciate that in the years that have passed the records of many of our courts have not been as complete as could be desired and that old and constant offenders, repeaters if you please, have come before the courts, have been found guilty and placed upon probation when there was not the slightest possibility of their reformation. I have in mind some specific cases, No. 5,334 from 1915 to the present time has been before the courts eight times and so far as our records show has never done a prison sentence. No. 5,332 has also had eight convictions. No. 4,142 has had eight convictions and no jail sentence. No. 5,234 has had eight convictions and on the last was sent to the state's prison from one to three years."

"I simply bring these specific cases to your attention that you may appreciate the problems with which we have to deal. More than 90 per cent of our

INGROWN TOE NAIL

TURN$ OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrown nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it cannot penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic, manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.—Adv.
